About Sheikh Sina

Sheikh Sina, a Bedouin run Eco-Travel Company strives to give you the best hiking, trekking and safari experience in the South Sinai mountains. We promote ecotourism; responsible travel in protected areas that is sensitive to the local environment and people.

Guides

The English and German speaking guides share stories and their knowledge about this special location, a cross roads between Africa and Eurasia, East and West. Steeped in history this triangle of land has been traversed since time immemorial by traders and pilgrims. The guides will explain the history of the religious and historical monuments you come across, they will also point out interesting flora that includes a wide variety of medicinal plants as you travel along the age old mountain and wadi routes.

Sights

Your attention will be kept by the imposing mountains and the surprising flashes of gardens tucked into crevices, cultivated by the Bedouin for centuries. You might have a chance to sample the delicious, organic fruit that is in season. As you progress, the stark terrain changes colours throughout the day and as the seasons take their course. You will not be disappointed by this chance to take time away from life and experience a different kind of reality. Name some of the sights here? Shortly with links to the actual hikes

You can chose a hike that suits your interests and needs. For a complete listing check the link treks and safaris.

History

Sheikh Sina was founded by an EU funded initiative that equips Bedouin guides with necessary hospitality management and language skills to lead mountain tourism operations in South Sinai. The initiative also assists in building several ecolodges in the South Sinai region.
